CONTEXT

Dun is a commune in Chu Se district, Gia Lai province, Vietnam. According to statistics provided by the People's Committee of Dun commune, as of January 2023, the total population of the Dun commune is 4,531 people. The main ethnic groups residing in the area are Kinh (38.9%), Gia Rai (53.5%), Ba Na (5.8%), and other ethnic minorities (1.8%).

The commune's economy has been based largely on agriculture - primarily cultivation of long-term and short-term crops such as coffee, pepper, and fruit trees, followed by livestock and poultry raising. The average per capita income is 147 euro per month (equivalent to 1,764 euro per year).

The percentage of poor households in the commune is 9.87%, and near-poor households account for 13.13%. The number of orphaned children is 35, in that 8 children being orphaned of both parents belong to poor or near-poor households.

FUTURE
FOR ALL

CONTEXT

The majority of ethnic minority people in Dun commune only finish grade 9 of secondary school education due to their financial hardship and different life perspective and habitation, which doesn't appreciate education.

The number of ethnic minority students graduating high school annually is between 6 and 10 students. Most of the children drop out of school to help their parents at home or seek employment opportunities in big cities in order to support their families financially.

Furthermore, the issue of early marriage still occurs in the area, despite many awareness campaigns have been held in the villages and hamlets.

Other reasons are long distance to schools (most high schools are concentrated in Chu Se district which is about 10-11km away from the commune), lack of means of transportation, and underdeveloped infrastructure. Therefore, the quality of life of poor children and children in the commune have remained low, with many safety risks.

In May 2023, a member of our team visited and assessed the living conditions of children in Dun commune and had conversations with them to better understand their dreams. Many of them wish to become doctors, teachers, or engineers despite the financial difficulties.

We want to create sustainable impact within the local community, empowering young generation through accessible education and different life perspective, offer support for collaborative families.

Respecting the local inhabitant and indigenous culture we choose to collaborate closely with local partner, who understand and live closely with local community, creating impact within the communities.

TARGET BENEFICIARIES

We focus on supporting 11 children and their families as well as local community who are from poor or near-poor households, and reside in Dun commune, Chu Se district, Gia Lai province, Vietnam.

The number of supported children may increase depending on the community's financial support to the project. The children, which range from 12 to 15 years old, are able to understand the importance of education and are keen to finish high school education at least.

*If any of 11 children drop out of school, we will cease the support for her/him through this program.

PROJECT GOALS

During the field trip to Dun commune in May 2023, we learned that a majority of the children decided to drop out of school when they reached the age of 15 in order to work and support their families financially.

Therefore, our goal is to support those children who are shouldering economic responsibilities along with their families, giving them an opportunity to complete their basic education and acquire additional skills and knowledge to become skillful workers in the future.

We hope that this will provide the children with a better future and open up new doors for their personal development.

- Long-term goal:

Raising awareness, changing mindset, creating new life perspective, sustainable change within communities, inspiring more children through success stories from other participants

- Short-term goal:

To provide tangible support to the children, including tuition fees, health insurance, educational materials, and daily goods.

PARTNERS

Our partners are the Youth Union of Dun commune and the children's in-charge teacher. We have met these partners in person and acknowledged their devotion and high commitment to helping children, thus we decided to collaborate with them.

FFA understand the importance of working closely with local community and support community through engaging and understanding principle. Local partner with their network through school teachers is reliable and has rich knowledge to create impact within the community/ families.

The main responsibilities of the partners are:

- Keeping track of the children's educational progress.
- Managing the funds and supporting children to buy necessary items according to their needs.
- Advising the team on cases which require additional assistance.

MANAGEMENT OF FUNDS

The funds will be sent to the official account of the Ho Chi Minh Communist Youth Union of Dun commune (every three or six months, depending on the amount of funds raised from the community). The money will not be directly given to the children to avoid situations in which their parents use the money for other purposes, not education.

Each child has different circumstances, so the funds will be used for different purposes. For example, some children may need to pay tuition fees, while others may require health insurance, books, or uniforms, etc. (Children from poor and near-poor households are exempt from tuition fees, but other cases are not).

Depending on the needs of each child, the in-charge teacher will request permission to withdraw money from the Youth Union's account to make the necessary purchases.

Upon receiving the items, the children will sign a confirmation paper. We will closely collaborate with the Youth Union and the in-charge teacher to receive periodic reports (every three or six months).

SUPPORT METHOD

The support amount is 20 EUR per month per child (equivalent to 240 EUR per year). There are two forms of support:

- Long-term support for one child: The team will suggest a child for you, with basic information about the child's circumstance. You can send contributions monthly, every 3 months, or every 6 months, depending on your capacity.

- Support to the general fund (back-up fund), not specifically for a particular child: This money will be used for children who do not have an allocated sponsor or in the case that their long-term sponsors would like to withdraw their roles. This money can also be used for emergency situations for the children (such as illness, accidents, etc.).
